“Business aviation is good for the heart of America. For more than 50 years, this is where I’ve been coming from.”

– Arnold Palmer

Latrobe, PA, doesn't have commercial airline service. But by using business airplanes, I've been able to live here and compete all over the world like anyone else from any other place for more than 50 years.

Business aviation has enabled me to be more productive and efficient in golf and business. It has made me better. It makes all of us better.
